Wilmington Social.

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 29.—More interesting weddings to local society folks occurred this week. Wednesday afternoon both the McGirt-Williams and Charles-Craft-Lucas nuptials were celebrated. The marriage of Miss Alice Charles-Craft, of Mr. and Mrs. Arell Charles-Craft, and Mr. John Paul Lucas, editor of the Winston-Salem Journal, took place at the Charles-Craft home, corner of Sixth and Chestnut streets, and was a decidedly pretty event. The parlor of the home were beautifully decorated, and the attendance was a large and fashionably attired one. The groom was attended by his close friend and best man, Mr. Henry Page, of Winston, N. C., and the bride by her maid of honor, Miss Mitchell Waddill, of Carthage, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. N. M. Watson, pastor of Grace Methodist Church. There were many out-of-town guests, a great number of whom had been college chums of the bride when she was a student at Trinity College. These were: Miss Mary Thomas, of New York City; Miss Nan Goodson, of Kinston; Miss Emmett Tuttle, of Rocky Mount; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin, of Durham; Miss Julia Minor, of Oxford, and Miss Lois Lucas, of Charlotte. The mother of the groom was also present, coming from her home in Charlotte.

The marriage of Miss Mamie Louise McGirt and Mr. James Sprunt Williams was celebrated at the Fifth Street Methodist Church, and was a brilliant affair. The edifice was a scene of floral splendor, enhanced by many lights and thronged with the many friends of the couple. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas A. Smooth, a brother-in-law of the bride and a member of the North Carolina Methodist Conference, assisted by Rev. K. D. Holmes, pastor of the church. The attendants were: Miss Addie Adkins, maid of honor; Mrs. Thomas A. Smooth, sister of the bride, dame of honor; Mr. Thomas R. Orrell, best man; Messrs. J. J. Adkins, W. A. McGirt, W. K. Lewis, and William A. Dock, ushers; Master Thomas Smooth, ribbon boy; Master Edward Smooth, ring bearer, and little Miss Thelma Brooks, flower girl.

But Doesn't Pinch So Badly.

The President comes forward with the statement that the world will not be able to provide food for the human hordes that will inhabit it 100 years from now. This would seem to be more serious than the present high prices.
